Which companies go beyond the norm to foster an enjoyable and meaningful work environment for their employees? Find out this week as the Milwaukee Business Journal unveils the 75 honorees in the 2025 Best Places to Work awards.

The Business Journal is announcing the first group of 20 honorees. See below for all the honorees in the micro category, covering companies with 10 to 24 local, permanent employees.

Look for the honorees in the small, medium, large and extra large categories to be announced throughout the week.

Companies that participate in the Best Places to Work program must see a large percentage of their employee base complete an online survey prepared and managed by Quantum Workplace.

Quantum Workplace assigns survey scores that indicate how favorably employees responded to questions regarding areas including feeling valued, team effectiveness, retention, alignment with goals, trust with co-workers and senior leaders and manager effectiveness.

Winners are listed below in alphabetical order. The rankings in each category based on survey scores will be revealed at this year’s Best Places to Work awards program, set for Sept. 11. Coverage of all the winners will be featured online and in the Sept. 12 weekly edition of the Milwaukee Business Journal.
